

This is Your Season of Endearment Before Me

The Terms of Endearment

Russ Walden - January 15th, 2022

The Father says today,

You are surrounded by a great cloud of witnesses.

Your loved ones are watching from the galleries of heaven and applauding your progress.

Run well

and run diligently the race I have set before you.

I haven't called you to second place;

I have called you to the winner's circle.

You win, says God,

for I am with you.

You've hoped to have a backer in some projects,

and I tell you that I am your backer and your underwriter;

what more are you waiting for?

Healing comes this day to your body and your heart.

Deep scars in your spirit and emotions are being healed.

The oil of My Spirit is flowing in to purge the infection of brutal disappointment.

Receive healing this day, says God.

Say to your heart,

"Hear what the Father is saying to you this day...."

Apply My grace to your emotions and your mind, for

I Am not depriving you in any way.

I Am not denying you

I Am delighting in you...

Conclusion: For this is your season of endearment before Me, says God.

Endearment: In a good sense: tender feeling, warm attachment, good will...

Right from the start, God expresses his deep and abiding affection for us. Listen, "my child" - When we've failed in some way—big or small—our Heavenly Father promises we won't be neglected or abandoned or forgotten. He is with us and loves us. Always.
